

MENTORSHIP PROGRAM APPLICATION

Crack open your geode – find your inner jewels!

Yggdrasil is a mystery school/retreat for visionary contrarians, as well as a resource for those in the process of becoming a visionary contrarian. A visionary contrarian is someone who recognizes that they have been wounded by being born into a dysfunctional culture, AND instead of being victimized by that, deeply longs to turn their suffering into something positive that they can then give back to the world. A visionary contrarian is someone who works with passionate resolve to transmute their core wounds into a sense of visionary calling around which a meaningful life can revolve. A visionary contrarian wants to change the world, but realizes that first, they must "be the change" they want to facilitate. A visionary contrarian is a spiritual warrior, walking a unique path of self-healing and self-actualization through service to the greater Whole.

The path of the visionary contrarian is not easy. The work of transmuting core wounds into visionary calling requires fierce dedication, and can at times greatly benefit from the wise counsel of someone who has walked the path themselves - another visionary contrarian who empathizes with your struggle, because it is similar to their own. At Yggdrasil, we have a number of wise mentors, who are available for one-on-one conversation with those are ready to make a solid commitment to their own growth and to the wellbeing of the world.

Your conversation with a Yggdrasil mentor will revolve around four primary soul tasks, which form the heart of the curriculum at our mystery school:

1. tending sacred wounds
2. cultivating a deep relationship with a visionary calling
3. inviting dialogue between diverse intelligences

4. courting the mysteries of the mythopoetic realm

You can read more about these soul tasks, as well as the overall vision behind Yggdrasil at our website at www.yggdrasilretreat.com.

If a Yggdrasil mentorship sounds like something that would aid you in your journey, we ask that you take the first step by filling out the brief questionnaire below. After we have had a chance to consider it, someone from Yggdrasil will contact you for a brief interview. If we decide you are a suitable candidate for our program, we will match you with an appropriate mentor given your personality, background, and issues.

Do you hear the voice of your own internal guide nudging you forward? Then let the conversation with the outer guide begin.
